Your history is our occupation!

Kharkiv Public Archive represents services to reconstruct your ancestry through the genealogical research. Genealogical research is collecting and systematization of information about the origin of your ancestors.

The purpose of such research is obtain for information about the names of ancestors, date and place of their birth, social status and religious affiliation, family ties.

During the genealogical research specialists of Kharkiv Public Archive are used a wide range of tools and methods. In addition to the documents of various archives, we use the museum collections, library stocks, periodicals and other materials.

This approach allows us to assemble diverse information about the ancestors, such as family structure, financial status (land ownership, annual revenue), occupation, place of work and service, data on Local History, etc.

Depending on places of residence and social status of your ancestors it perhaps to reconstruct lineages up to the beginning of XVIII century. Under optimal condition, the genealogical research could last for one year.

Results of the study issued in the form of a Family Tree. All documents collected during the research, with comments and explanations, are sent to you.

The cost of search for information about one ancestor is defined by tariffs, which are available on our website (archives.kh.ua). Extra costs associated with obtaining of information (travel expenses, copying of documents, etc.) are charged separately. All extra costs are confirmed by relevant documents.

The area of possibilities of Kharkiv Public Archive also included collecting, analysis and systematization of information on particular topics or issues, determining various facts or events. Extensive links with archival institutions of Ukraine, Belarus and Russia allow us to successfully execute both simple and complex requests.

Kharkiv Public Archive stands for openness and transparency in dealing with clients. All works are carried by contract.
